Vicki is a senior consultant and facilitator for Stellar Teams, a professional services corporation headquartered in Denver, Colorado, providing customized skill-building workshops, talent assessments, coaching, and organizational effectiveness consulting for leaders and teams.

Vicki is skilled in developing and directing technology and operational organizations and project teams. Known as a “turn-around” leader, she has successfully re-engineered several challenged organizations and programs developing the leaders and operational groups into successful service-minded, customer-oriented teams. An expert in change management, she has designed approaches, developed effective methods, and implemented creative processes focused on integrating strategic technology and organizational change for many different companies.

Vicki has spent more than twenty years as an executive and senior technology leader for companies such as J.P. Morgan Chase, Wolters Kluwer, and Lexis Nexis. In these roles, she was responsible for strategic planning, workforce analysis and planning, leadership and team development, relationship management, and technology delivery. Her passion is assisting organizations, programs, and people capitalize on their unique strengths while addressing identified challenges in the most effective manner possible. She is skilled in conducting assessments, developing recommendations, and designing initiatives that are focused on developing organizational capabilities and improving business and technology operations.

Vicki volunteered as an Introductory Leader and Workshop Instructor for the Wellness Community, a nationwide free cancer patient resource center for several years. She is active in local outreach programs and has been a board member for several non-profit organizations. She is a published author of personal/career development and inspirational books.
